

Intellect Web Solutions

Company Profile

We are different from others. How you ask? Everyone trumpets quality, service, cost and timely completion of project deliverables. Intellect Web Solutions transcends these traditional expectations by carefully assessing your needs and identifying the latest technologies to address them. For instance, if we know of an off-the-shelf solution which we believe can be customized to meet your pressing demands, we will recommend it at the outset. It could be a set of PHP scripts to add social media to your web site. It could even be Ajax, Ruby, Python or even a technology without a name that is still in the works and on the anvil. Our seasoned web developers are trained to leverage Windows technologies too. Ask us to develop a one-of-a-kind web solutions using DOT.NET, JAVA or Visual Basic and you will know what we mean. Recommendations involving the right platform, technology or operating system is second nature to us. Tell us about the project and we will tell you about the solution.
